

Therapeutic Use Exemption (TUE) Application Form for Local Glucocorticoid Injections

1. Pre-application Checklist

The below checklist outlines the medical evidence required to support a TUE application for the use of a glucocorticoid administered by local injection (e.g. epidural, intra-articular, intrabursal, intradermal, intralesional, intratendinous, intrathecal, periarticular, peritendinous, and subcutaneous).

This checklist should be considered by the doctor overseeing treatment before an athlete receives a local glucocorticoid injection (particularly if the injection is to be given within a defined washout period). Further information about washout periods and the timing of when an athlete requires a TUE for a local injection can be found within UK Anti-Doping's Glucocorticoid TUE Policy.

- i. I have a copy of the investigations used to confirm the diagnosis. This could be the results of appropriate imaging and any other relevant investigations used to confirm the diagnosis.
- ii. I have a thorough clinical history of the athlete that includes when the injury first presented, a description of the symptoms experienced (at that time), and the severity of these symptoms.
- ii. I have documented my clinical examination findings that have led to the decision to proceed with the glucocorticoid injection. I can also outline the consequences to the athlete if treatment was withheld any longer.
- v. I can provide either (a) a summary of the permitted medications and/or alternative non-pharmacological treatment modalities that have been trialled before considering the use of a glucocorticoid injection (including names, doses, dates, duration, and the effect of each treatment trialled); or (b) clinical justification explaining why alternatives have not been trialled.

The rest of this application form should only be completed if an athlete has returned an adverse analytical finding for a glucocorticoid administered by local injection.

In such instances, please complete all sections in BLOCK CAPITALS. Incomplete or illegible forms will be returned. Applications will also not be considered unless the above components of the checklist are enclosed within the application.

Athletes and support personnel are guided to the Medicine Hub on UK Anti-Doping's website for frequently asked questions on this topic.
