Clean Sport is an interconnected, geopolitical issue and UKAD's international influence is key to raising the global standards of anti-doping. UKAD's international consultancy services support other anti-doping organisations, and its strong voice helps influence important decision making.

UK Anti-Doping's International Strategy:

- Increase UKAD's international influence through alliance building, representation in the appropriate forums, attendance and hosting of international events and conferences
- Proactive and strategic consultancy with other countries to build anti-doping capability
- Use expertise to support the international clean sport agenda

UKAD has worked with:

- Azerbaijan Anti-Doping Agency (AMADA)
- NADA Belarus
- Brazilian Doping Control Authority (ABCD)
- Caribbean Regional Anti-Doping Organisation (CARADO)
